

GLOBAL CO-OPERATION FOR A BETTER WORLD

London 12/3/88

Dear Virginia,

Have you conducted any good workshops recently? Special greetings from an old friend in London who's privilege it was to share and be conducted in a workshop by you last September. It was a special experience for me with a little magic in the air, the kind of magic that now sees us all working together in this most auspicious project bringing co-operation to the people of the world.

It was lovely to see your name on the U.S. Committee and seemed to confirm why we were all drawn together in New York around September last year just when the project was in its formative stage.

I remember having one very special conversation with you which seemed to signal a real meeting of aspirations and pure desire to bring benefit to offer. So welcome to Global Co-operation and I hope one day you'll make it to London to see your fellow sisters and brothers working here at the main office in Baker Street. It's not a huge office but it does have a special vibration.

In the meantime please extend my best wishes to your husband and do let us know if either of you ever make it to London.

With love and very best wishes

Mike
